McAdoo Leaders Claim His Nomination by 10th Ballot; Opponents See Long Battle

Judge Rockwell Thinks Former Treasury Head Will Win by the Fifth.

MAY ECLIPSE 1912 TEST

First Aim of Anti-McAdoo Forces Will Be to Eliminate Him and Then Give Smith Chance; Sentiment Is That Dark Horse Will Eventually Win.

NEW YORK, June 19.—William Gibbs McAdoo today called his strategists into conference to map a short sharp campaign to effect his nomination in the Democratic National Convention on or before the 10th ballot. At the same time the opposing forces, for it is generally conceded that it is McAdoo against the field, were preparing to prolong the struggle in the hope of breaking down the strength and support of McAdoo, said the latter's strength may reach its peak as early as the 5th ballot and that McAdoo would surely go over the 10th. George Brennan, Illinois chieftain, who wants Al Smith nominated, "there will be no early decision and indicated the voting may surpass the endurance test of 1912 when it required 44 ballots to nominate James M. Cox and the record set in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson was nominated on the 46th ballot.

The strategy of the anti-McAdoo forces at the outset will be to "get rid of McAdoo first." Then Smith will be given his big chance and if he fails of nomination as many believe, the time will have arrived to agree in the rival camps upon a compromise.

As the opening of the convention draws nearer the city is being shaken by new bombs almost daily. The overnight conversations of delegates brought out a crash or two today for Senator Pat Harrison as a dark horse, Senator Thomas Walsh of oil probe fame and Governor Davis of Kansas.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi today took a practice gallop with the Democratic "dark horse," being groomed as compromise candidate in event of a deadlock between William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith.

Harrison today had a conference with George E. Brennan, Democratic boss of Illinois and leader of the anti-McAdoo forces, and Governor Smith. The Democratic leaders and delegates everywhere have only kind words for the Mississippi, whose popularity with all factions of the party was responsible for his selection as the Democratic "keynote."

The only point raised against the availability of Harrison in the event of a deadlock was his far southern residence. His ability and all around fitness were conceded generally. He is a dry, of Protestant faith, an orator of great ability and is well known to the voters.

BOND ISSUE GIVEN APPROVAL BY M. E. CONGREGATION

Issuance of bonds up to $125,000 by the Methodist Episcopal Church to aid in financing the new edifice in South Pittsburgh street was approved at a congregational meeting Wednesday night after the weekly prayer service. To the officials of the church will be left the determination of what will be financed by the bond issue.

The aim of the bond issue is to lift the burden off the present membership and spread it out over a period of years, say up to 20, after the manner in which municipal improvements are financed.

It is believed there will be no difficulty in selling bonds secured by a church property. They are said to be practically as safe as municipal bonds. The first will not be issued until August.

Parachute Saves MacReady When His Plane Is Wrecked

By United Press.

DAYTON, Ohio, June 19.—His plane plunging earthward from an altitude of 5,000 feet, directly over the business district of Dayton, Lieutenant John A. MacReady hero of the first non-stop flight across the continent, averted a disastrous accident last night when he calmly walked out on the wing on his hurtling ship and stepped off into space, supported only by his emergency parachute.

Then as he fell with the breeze, MacReady watched the ship he had left fall to earth and explode just outside the city limits.

MacReady's parachute landed in a tree-top on the brink of a ravine and after several calls he succeeded in arousing two men who lived nearby and they came out and cut him down.

BOBBING RATES TOO LOW, BARBERS CLAIM; THEY INCREASE THEM

Claiming that the rates charged here for bobbing girls' and women's hair are lower than elsewhere, especially in Pittsburgh, barbers of Connellsville, at a meeting last evening, voted for an increase. Hereafter the rate for the first cut will be a dollar, with 75 cents as the rate for straight bobbing and 50 cents, unchanged, for straight bobbing, after a hair has once been cut.

Explaining the increase for first cutting, a barber said this is a task not many of the craft are desirous of undertaking. The average woman, he said, is in an uncertain state of mind, a rule, being fearful that her appearance after the locks are shorn will not be what she desired. Sometimes it is necessary to spend considerable time with the subject before she is ready to leave the chair.

The old rates for first cutting were, this barber said, ranging from 50 cents to a dollar and a half. The rate for single bob has been 50 cents.

State police rushed here from the Butler barracks started a search for the bombers who planted a heavy charge of dynamite under the house, while Dunlop, his wife and a young son were asleep in an upstairs bedroom. Beyond a severe shaking up, none of the family was injured. Dunlop was active in liquor law enforcement, particularly against foreigners, police said.

SILVER CUPS AND MUCH PRAISE FOR B. & O. EMPLOYEES

Connellsville Division Warmly Congratulated for Great Safety Record.

GEN. MANAGER SPEAKS TO HOLD CAUCUS MONDAY

Silver loving cups, awards in the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's safety campaign which closed at the end of last month, won by the Connellsville Division, were presented last night at a reception held in the State Armory. The affair was attended by several hundred railroad employees, their wives and friends.

Two cups were won by the local division, one the award to the high division on Eastern line and the other for taking highest honors on the system.

Mayor C. C. Mitchell made a short welcoming address after being introduced by Superintendent G. W. Martin. The mayor said Connellsville was the biggest little city on the Baltimore & Ohio line.

J. T. Broderick, of the safety department with headquarters at Baltimore, presented the system cup.

"You have achieved the almost impossible," he told employees in a brief word of congratulation, referring to the perfect record handed in by the Connellsville Division. The cup was accepted by Superintendent Martin. He gave full credit for the record of the Connellsville division to the men working on it. There were no accidents on it in the 30-day period of the campaign that were severe enough to keep an employee from work.

E. W. Scherer, general manager of the line east, principal speaker of the evening, was then introduced by Mr. Martin.

Of sums lost by the railroad through accidents and carelessness he said, a sum amounting to $265,000 was due to accidents that were avoidable. He said if officers and employees could and would eliminate losses by achieving the same record the Connellsville Division has up, it would save a sum of over $400,000 and would increase the number of men hours of employment. He said campaigns would be inaugurated to eliminate losses at freight terminals.

He congratulated the men of the division on their record in reducing cost of transportation and the absence of physical torture from accidents. He termed the record a glorious achievement.

Telegrams from President Willard and others, expressing regret at inability to attend, were read.

Among railroad officials present at the affair were E. W. Scherer, general manager of the eastern line; Baltimore, E. A. Pock, general superintendent, Pennsylvania district; Pittsburgh, J. D. Belts, superintendent of Pittsburgh division; R. W. Brown, superintendent of Cumberland division; J. T. Broderick, superintendent of safety department, Baltimore; W. P. Braden, safety representative, Baltimore; J. O. Dunn, safety agent, Pennsylvania district; D. P. Burns, secretary to the general superintendent, Pittsburgh; M. W. Jones, assistant editor of Baltimore & Ohio Magazine.

Following the presentation of the cups the evening was spent in dancing.

U. S. Ready to Act For Britain at Mexican Capital

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The United States today stood ready to use its good offices to mediate in any crisis that might arise from the British-Mexican imbroglio over the ordered expulsion of H. C. Cummings, British agent at the Mexican capital.

The American government, however, for the time being, will merely watch developments and take charge of British diplomatic affairs in Mexico as requested by the British government. These were turned over to it yesterday following receipt of a final refusal from Mexico to withdraw its expulsion order and the decision of the British government to withdraw Cummings.

This country regards the tangle purely one for settlement between Great Britain and Mexico. The Monroe Doctrine is held not to apply to such a situation unless it passes beyond the stage of diplomatic negotiations into a more serious phase.

LONDON, June 19.—Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking in the House of Commons this afternoon vigorously defended the actions of H. C. Cummings, British diplomatic representative in Mexico City whose expulsion has been ordered by the Mexican government.

PENNA. DELEGATION IS SPLIT BETWEEN M'ADOO AND SMITH

Sterling Faction Claims 80 Votes for Former; Guffy 46 for Latter.

TO HOLD CAUCUS MONDAY

NEW YORK, June 19.—While the candidates for the presidential nomination are marshalling their forces in major offensives and defensive Pennsylvania's 76 delegates to the Democratic convention will stage what is expected to be a spirited skirmish at their caucus in the Hotel Pennsylvania at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The caucus is well known yesterday, has been called by Joseph F. Guffy, Democratic national committee man for Pennsylvania who will arrive here tomorrow to take part in advance conferences.

The epidemic of claims being made seems to have spread to their followers in this state. It is reported that Democratic State Chairman John H. Bigelow has announced that the state's delegation will support Governor Al Smith.

The Guffy forces it is said, claim that the state will give Smith 45 votes on the first ballot and will continue to support him until there is no hope when these votes will be switched to another candidate possibly to Oscar W. Underwood unless the sentiment for John W. Davis which appears to be growing, crystallizes. The same faction claims that William G. McAdoo will not get more than 21 of the remaining 31 votes.

While admitting that Smith has strong support in the state, McCormick-Sterling-McSparren faction claims 30 votes for McAdoo on the first ballot.

Bruce F. Sterling one of the McAdoo managers in Pennsylvania, said yesterday:

I think McAdoo will have about 30 votes from Pennsylvania on the first ballot. There is no doubt that the bulk of the Pennsylvania delegation will be divided between Smith and McAdoo.

Mr. Sterling pointed out that six of the eight Democratic delegates at-large pledged themselves to support the popular choice for president and he believed they are morally bound to support McAdoo who received the most votes in the state. The delegates at-large who are pledged are Mrs. Clarence Rowland of Pittsburgh and John A. McSparren of Lancaster.

Charles N. B. Lanahan of Wilkes-Barre will be supported by the Guffy group for chairman of the delegation, it was said yesterday. There is a chance that he will be opposed by Sterling.

Poison Gas Used in Effort To Break Long Filibuster in Rhode Island State Senate

Reporter Overcome, Several Members Made Ill by Noxious Vapor.

BATTLE IS THEN RENEWED

By United Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 19.—Despite the injection of poison gas into the Senate chamber of the state legislature here in an effort to end a deadlock, with the result that 19 senators were overcome and treated by physicians, the filibuster remained in effect late this afternoon with neither side showing sign of yielding.

Governor Flinn and Lieutenant Governor Toupin were seeking a solution of the mystery of who introduced a wad of paper and rags soaked in what seemed to be chlorine gas into the chamber.

The Senate has been deadlocked since 2 P. M. Tuesday and in continuous session. Many senators were affected by the fumes from the gas this morning but after being treated returned to the chamber. Early in the afternoon some Republican senators left for their homes under police guard, claiming they were poisoned.

The Republicans wish to pass an appropriation bill and adjourn but the Democrats refuse to approve this until the Republicans have voted in favor of a constitutional convention.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 19.—What is believed to have been poison gas was used today in an attempt to break the filibuster in the Rhode Island State Senate which has been in continuous session since 2 P. M. Tuesday.

The deadlock is due to Democratic insistence that Republican members vote in favor of a constitutional convention before the annual appropriation bill is passed and the Senate adjourns. The chair has refused to recognize Republicans.

F. J. Smith, rising on a small scale and humorous remarks such as when the speaker, Lieutenant Governor Toupin, a Democrat, was shoved as he sat in the chair have marked the long drawn battle of wills but today the climax was reached with the introduction of gas in the chamber.

About 7:45 A. M. these senators who were awake noticed a strong odor of gas permeating the room. One by one they started coughing but none would leave. A few minutes later a reporter sitting at the press table near the rear of the chamber felt an unusual odor. Lieutenant Governor Toupin, swaying on his feet, caught at one of his bodyguards to save himself from falling. Two men ran from the chamber crying for doctors. Later three senators were treated by a physician.

After an hour's recess the filibuster was continued.

U. S. Within Rights, Japan Told by Hughes In Exclusion Note

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The American reply to the Japanese protest against the exclusion provision of the immigration act was made public here last night by the State Department, simultaneously with the publication through the foreign office in Tokyo. It is cordial and friendly in tone, but at the same time makes it clear that the exclusion provision in no way trespasses upon any written or implied obligation on the part of the United States.

Secretary Hughes points out that Congress was wholly within its right in the enactment of the provision and that the action taken "is mandatory upon the executive branch of the Government and allows no latitude for the exercise of executive discretion as to the carrying out of the legislative will expressed in the statute."

STRIKERS AND COAL COMPANY GUARDS BATTLE

Miner Injured and Hall Destroyed by Fire at Brady Plant Near Morgantown.

HUNDREDS SHOTS FIRED

Trouble Starts When Union Men Attempt to Drive Out Strike Breakers Brought in by Brady-Warner Coal Company; Officers Restore Order.

By United Press.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 19.—State police today patrolled Brady a little mining town in the mountains near here, followed a pitched gun battle between striking miners and company guards of the Brady-Warner Coal Company.

One miner was injured in the firing which lasted from midnight to 1 o'clock this morning, the miners' hall was destroyed by fire and many of the miners' houses were literally "shot full of holes."

Four blasts of dynamite rocked the town and between 400 and 600 shots were exchanged between the strikers and guards. Women and children in the company houses were forced to seek refuge in the cellars to escape the bullets that tore through the flimsy structures.

The Brady mines recently went on an open shop basis, and when the union miners refused to accept a cut in wages the company brought in non-union men. A vote taken by the strikers to drive the non-union men from the settlement last night precipitated the trouble.

Sheriff Yost of Morgantown, who went to the scene of the shooting with a force of deputies, returned at dawn with four prisoners. He said every thing now was quiet with state police in control of the situation.

COUNCIL SHOULD ACT ON MEMORIAL, PUBLIC OPINION

Discussing the proposed war memorial monument suggested as a successor to the temporary wood one which has stood in front of the City Hall for the past five years, Mayor C. C. Mitchell said this morning he had received several communications from architects desiring to draw up such memorial, to be submitted to the city for approval.

The need for a memorial to supplant the temporary one is becoming pressing. Another name is being obliterated. Two are already gone and the painted letters of the third one are beginning to curl up and drop off.

That it is up to Council to take some action on a new memorial is the consensus of opinion. It is held to be a community project, and one that cannot be discarded as it was understood the affair was to be only a temporary tablet until a permanent one, or something more permanent could be secured.

There are several hundred names on the honor roll. These were compiled with much labor and it would be hard to replace the complete list. A film of rust has formed around every name plate and it will be a matter of only a short time until the paint on all of them begins to drop off.

One suggestion is for bronze plates to be placed on a marble base on the City Hall lawn, with a walk entirely around it. Mayor Mitchell said he believed it could be worked out that the names of those Connellsville men who served in the Civil and Spanish-American wars could also be included on the tablet, making it Connellsville's tribute to its fighters in every major conflict.

Many Gather at Last Rites for Mrs. Murtha

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murtha of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. John Murtha and daughter, Adelaide, of Mount Pleasant, Mrs. W. E. Kelly, Mrs. Rose Adams and Felix McIntyre of New Kensington and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre of Blairsville were among the out of town persons who attended the funeral service for Mrs. Anna Murtha Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic Church, of which she was a member, at Leavenworth No. 1. Many relatives and friends were in attendance.

Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father William C. Fromme, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Father Kelly of Uniontown, deacon, and Rev. Father A. Martinovich of Conneltsville, sub-deacon. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Pallbearers were James, Felix, John, Harry Francis and Joseph Murtha, nephews.

Lemon Juice

Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quartet-plot of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and feet. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Advertisement.

His friends wondered how he did it

SMITH always had ready cash. When he decided to buy a home, he had the money to pay the first installment. When his son went to college, Smith was ready with the extra money that he needed. He never worried and he never borrowed, although his income was no larger than that of other men in his position. He lived comfortably within his means.

His friends all wondered how he did it. When they asked Smith, they found out that the secret was a surprisingly simple one. Smith simply saved. For years, every week he had deposited a small amount in a special bank account and let it remain at compound interest. From these small, but regular, deposits, Smith has a reserve fund that supplies the cash for all emergencies. When he is in need of money, he draws out part of his account—but he never stops saving.

To Smith, every week means a little more money in the bank. He has discovered the solution for money problems.

You can open an account with this bank for weekly deposits of one dollar or more. Compound interest paid on your balance.

Burns Healed Without Leaving A Scar

My sister was burned last winter when putting coal oil on a deadened fire and the flames burst out into her face. We used nothing but San Cura and didn't even have a physician and in almost an incredible short time her face was perfectly healed without a scar. It is the finest thing for burns that I have ever seen. Have also used it for other things. Just lately an infected toe and immediately it was healed.—Hattie S. Pitts, 18 Iowa Circle, Washington, D. MOUNT PLEASANT WOMAN SENSELESS FROM LIGHTNING

Mrs. Anna Mortimore Lies
Unconscious for Hour but Suffers No Ill Effects.

WOMEN FAIL TO PAY TAX

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 18.—Yesterday just about noon the worst electrical storm that has visited this town this summer lasted for more than an hour. Mrs. Anna Mortimore of North Diamond street was on the back porch hanging out a tea towel, and her hand touched a nail. She received such a shock from the lightning that she was thrown back into the kitchen. A granddaughter staying with Mrs. Mortimore helped her to a chair, went to call neighbors. When they came back they found Mrs. Mortimore lying on the floor unconscious. When she regained consciousness more than an hour later she said that she felt faint and had slipped to the floor. Last evening Mrs. Mortimore had recovered from the shock and seemed normal with the exception of a headache.

Repaying Petition Signed.
Yesterday the First Ward's petition for repaying Main street was completed, every portion on the street having signed. Edward Swartz, who has carried the petition, will turn it over to council. The Second Ward is getting along well with its petition and will likely have it all signed within the next few days, but the Third Ward is lagging, and it may be possible that the street will be repaved or resurfaced only to Diamond street.

Women Slow Paying Taxes.
At a special meeting of the school board it was found that the taxes were not coming in as they should. Tax collector D. C. Rumbaugh was asked to what he attributed the shortage and it was found that the women had fallen down on paying their taxes. Mr. Rumbaugh was ordered to collect and it is necessary to take the constable with him in collecting them.

Exports of British Coal Show Decline; U. S. Shipments Gain

British exports of coal during the first four months of the present year, amounting to 20,755,881 tons, were considerably less than during the corresponding period of last year, but greater than the first four months of 1931. Exports during April were less than during any one of the three previous months of 1932.

While the British export trade has decreased, the United States shipments of bituminous coal overseas are considerably larger than during any one of the previous months, being over 100,000 tons larger than in March. The total exports of bituminous coal from the United States were less than during any one of the previous months of 1932, owing to decreased shipments to Canada.

Now We Know Why People Have Burning Feet

All in the Joints Says
Maine Doctor

"What fools we mortals be." All these years we have been trying to help thousands of footsore people by bathing and powdering the skin when all the time the real trouble is in the bones, ligaments and cartilage. Or, to be short, in the joints.

There are 24 bones in the foot covered with cartilage and connected with ligaments and they have a tremendous amount of work to do.

The slightest strain on one little ligament from being "on the feet" too much inflames the whole foot, causing soreness and burning, aching and general misery.

"All this can be quickly proved," says a prominent Maine doctor whose name is known the world over.

Just try a remedy that is compounded for joint troubles only—such as Joint-Ease, which every druggist carries, and see how quickly your aching, tired, inflamed and tormented feet will get well and strong and sturdy again.

Forget your powdering and soaking and other makeshifts for just a few days and get rid of all foot misery by using Joint-Ease.

It's an active emollient that you rub on with your fingers for about a minute and it soaks right in through the skin and seeps away down to the joints—the real seat of all troubles.

And remember when Joint-Ease gets in all foot misery gets out—quick. A tube for 50 cents. Every drug store.

Union Drug Co. sells lots of it—Advertisement.

Child-birth

HOW thousands of women, by the simple method of an eminent physician, have avoided unnecessary suffering through many months and up to the moment they had delivered, is fully explained in the remarkable book, "Mother's Friend." This also tells how to do the baby after birth, the proper date of birth, and about "Mother's Friend," used by three generations of mothers, and sold in all drug stores. It is a safe, simple, and effective remedy, applied externally, permits easier natural adjustment of muscles and nerves during pregnancy and childbirth. Hurt using it today. Mrs. M. E. Ketter, Dayton, Minn., says: "I pulled me through. Send for book to Dr. J. C. Rogers, 1000 N. W. 10th St., Atlanta, Ga. 'Mother's Friend' is sold at all good drug stores—everywhere."

Coal Stocks 50,000,000 Tons
Authorities believe the stocks of bituminous coal now on hand do not total more than 50,000,000 tons. The trade is of opinion that, while the stocks are reduced to 25,000,000 tons, new buying will commence in good volume; 20,000,000 tons on hand is considered the famine point.

EXACT STATUS OF STEEL BUYING NOT FULLY DETERMINED

Difference of View As to Comparison
With the May Average of 86 Per Cent of Producing Capacity.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Review will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Testimony varies as to whether or not there has been an increase in the total volume of steel buying thus far this month, over the average of May, which was about 30 per cent of capacity. In a dull market an occasional large order, not typical of general conditions, may swell a total and make a misleading showing.

While there may be doubt as to the total volume of buying, the character of buying is such as to make an improved outlook. In many lines there is an increase in the number of orders, while there is also a wider range of sizes called for in individual orders. The indication of the actual orders is of buyers' stocks being depleted or having become ragged, and inquiry among buyers develops the same conclusion.

In some lines, notably merchant bars, a better feeling is seen among buyers, exemplified in a greater readiness to place orders for nearby requirements.

On a normal average basis for stocks of steel in the hands of buyers, liquidation could even now be said to be completed, but the policy of buyers is to put their stocks well below normal, and thus a little further liquidation is to occur.

Steel prices have been holding quite well considering the circumstances. Pipe mill prices remain perfectly firm. Wire products are at approximately the same level as a month ago. Bars, shapes and plates are almost as steady as a month ago. Sheet prices now show quite a small range as the leading interest is meeting a $4 a ton cut from the old prices and lower independents than formerly are going beyond $4.

More Locomotives In Need of Repairs

Locomotives in need of repair on May 5 totaled 11,585 or 18.4 per cent of the number on line, according to reports to this office.

This was an increase of 426 locomotives compared with the number in need of repair on May 1st, at which time there were 11,159 or 17.8 per cent.

A Vacation Reading Circle

One Mother Says:

The hot hours during the middle of the day hang heavily in the summer vacation, and some years ago I established a neighborhood reading circle, lasting for two of these long hours. All children are welcome to come in and lie about on the floor or sofa while I read aloud. I have introduced them to the thrilling tales of Walter Scott, Kipling, Stevenson, Cooper and Dickens. In this way three good things are accomplished: Education, occupation and rest.

EFFORT MADE TO PROVE HOOVER'S SALES IRREGULAR

An effort is being made by the Commonwealth to prove that permits by which John T. Hoover withdrew whisky from his warehouse in Uniontown for sale were irregular. Testimony to this effect was presented by Victor J. Dowd, prohibition agent for the 3rd District, who was on the stand yesterday and again this morning. A check of 329 cases seized last July along a highway near Uniontown showed, Dowd said, that the serial numbers did not correspond to those on the permits issued from the office of Prohibition Director J. T. Davis in Philadelphia.

Frequent objections to the testimony of Dowd marked the forenoon today. The jury was almost continuously being shown technical papers, permits, applications for sale and transportation and other forms.

The taking of the testimony is a slow process and it was said the case would probably last until Saturday.

Roy J. T. Davis of Blairsville, former prohibition director of the State, was on the stand the greater part of Monday afternoon. The testimony of the Rev. Mr. Davis centered around explaining to the court the various forms on which application was made to bottle whisky, the permit issued to bottle the whisky, the application for permission to move whisky, the permit granting the action, the permit to sell liquor to one having a basic permit to purchase liquor, the permit to deliver whisky, etc. Rev. Davis identified applications and permits produced by the defendant and admitted they were approved by himself and sent by registered letter to Mr. Hoover. They had been examined and approved by James T. Worthington, who examines all basic applications, explained Rev. Davis. When questioned about his signature appearing on one of the permits, Mr. Davis said "It looks like a facsimile stamp." He added, "But I would say the permit is legitimate."

In completing the jury for the trial yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Anna Lynch of Jefferson township, Mrs. Martha Dawler of Ballwin township, Leonard Potter, Perry township and Robert Simpson of Jefferson township were chosen.

Andrew Counts, of Morgantown, W. Va., convicted last Saturday of murder in the second degree for the death of Constable Lon Sutton on last March 28, was admitted to bail shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. Bail for $10,000 was furnished by G. Corrado of Connelville.

The bail was arranged by H. S. Dumbauld, counsel for the defense. Both District Attorney E. D. Brown and first assistant, Alfred E. Jones, concurred. The bond was given, pending the application for a new trial which will likely be disposed of at the end of the June term of court.

In the meantime the search for Matteotti's body continues without success, although police claim they have all the men who took part in the plot under arrest.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done me much good. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to be in bed all the time, and when I started taking it up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, and then I would stay in bed all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have a lot of friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."

Another Cut at Furnace Ovens Brings Production Nearer Low Tide in 1922

Merchants Gain Slightly to Even Up, Not to Supply Increased Demand.

LEADERS OF THE REGION

For the first time since the sympathy strike in 1921, Frick Company blows out 1,000 more ovens, banks 100; more going out this week.

(From The Weekly Courier)

The continued curtailment of production by the furnace oven operators is steadily driving the regional total to a lower apex than the low tide mark during the depression of 1921. With an additional 7,160 tons shipped off last week the combined output of both interests in the two districts dropped to 75,520 tons, being another of the 13 consecutive reductions which have taken place beginning with the week ended March 23. Except for the fact that the merchant operators found it necessary to augment their production the downward plunge would have been still greater. Having, during the preceding week, come quite near to the point where a halt (or modification) of the restriction program might be desirable, the merchants last week made a step forward by increasing output by 4,440 tons. This advanced their quota to 39,320 tons, or almost 3,000 tons greater than the furnace production. This is noteworthy in having been the first time the merchants have assumed the leadership in production since the early summer of 1921, when the sympathetic strike of the coke workers brought enforced idleness to all except three to six per cent of the furnace ovens.

The gain in merchant production last week was not in response to any enlargement of demand, as might appear from the face of the returns. Rather, it was a kind of eyeing up, the effect of the drastic and long continued restriction having been somewhat more severe in some instances than was anticipated or as conditions actually warranted. This sometimes occurs when there prevails a tendency toward a change in the trade situation and has been found to apply to both restriction and increase of production, the difficulty being to keep precise step with the changes, down or up, as may be the direction of movement.

There is not much, if anything, in the present situation to give assurance that the merchant operators will have need to further augment production, or even keep it at last week's rate. In fact, the probabilities are that a slight recession will be a development of this week. The dullness in the trade and the softening tendencies in prices, and the production signs, and especially offer no encouragement to tempt fate by making more coke than can be absorbed as rapidly as produced.

Thus far there are no apparent indications that the furnace operators will change their practice of the last few weeks, which has been to lessen output by means blowing out and banking ovens and running on short time schedules. Last week the H. C. Frick Coke Company added 1,000 ovens to the list and banked 800 over the entire week. Full time was made at four, four days at six and two days at one plant, making the average about 4.5 days at the 11 plants which remain in operation. The blowing out of 190 ovens at the Colonial No. 4 plant leaves this company without any going coking operations in the Lower Connellsville district, a condition unprecedented in the history of the company except during the strike of 1921. The coal loading plants alone are being kept active. More ovens are being blown out by the Frick company in the Connellsville district this week.

The comparative activity of the two interests in the two districts is shown in the following tables:

The estimated production of coke during the week ended Saturday, June 18, was 75,520 tons, divided between the two districts as follows: Connellsville, 39,320, a decrease of 7,160 tons; Lower Connellsville district, 35,970 tons, an increase of 670 tons, or a net decrease of 7,160 tons, as compared with a total decrease of 5,150 tons during the preceding week. By increasing the production of the furnace, 38,300, a loss of 9,600 tons, merchant, 39,320, a gain of 4,440 tons, as compared with losses of 5,140 and 50 tons respectively during the week ended June 7.

The increase of 1,000 in the number of ovens in blast is the difference between 1,938 blown out at furnace and a net gain of 94 at merchant plants. The changes at the latter included 100 out at Mt. Nesquehoning, 10 in at Oliver No. 1, 20 in at Oliver No. 2 and 24 resumed at Ferguson.

Production by the merchant and furnace interests and the total compared with the corresponding week in 1921 is shown herewith.

The Paramount

"THE LAW FORBIDS"—Showing today at the Paramount, presents Baby Peggy the popular child actress, supported by one of the ablest casts ever assembled in an interesting role. It is a tale in which the grownups figure a mass of infatuation, divorce troubles, a "trial separation," a few broken hearts and a wonderful romance. But through it all the dominating figure is an innocent child, who, in the remarkable climax, solves the problem in a way long to be remembered. Bernard McConville's story, romanticized by Lois Zellner and directed by Jess Robbins, will long live as one of the outstanding figures of the screen.

Robert Ellis and Elinor Fair play the baby's parents, estranged through bickerings, who embark on the "trial separation." Winifred Bryson of "Thundering Dawn" plays a new kind of a vamp as the actress whose charms enmesh the husband; as usual, her acting leaves nothing to be desired—or imagined.

The character players deserve special note. Joseph Dowling, remembered in the title role of "The Miracle Man," gives a commendable performance as the judge.

Friday and Saturday, Neal Hart will be seen in "Tucker's Top Hand."

The Soisson

"THREE MILES OUT"—On view today and Saturday at the Soisson, presents Madge Kennedy and Harrison Ford in interesting roles. Never in all her screen and stage experience has Madge Kennedy, the popular picture star, been called upon to perform so many sensational stunts as she does in her newest production, "Three Miles Out." An adaptation of an original story by John Emerson and Anita Loos. Miss Kennedy as the heroine of the thrilling drama that has as its title indicates, an up-to-date aspect of the run-running activities just beyond the pale of Volsteadian restrictions. The picture is colorful, alive with romance, suspense and thrills, and much to the satisfaction of exacting audiences, abounds in unusual comedy climaxes. Miss Kennedy has an admirable role and she injects into that wonderful personality sprightliness and sweetness of charm that have endeared her to both stage and screen audiences.

In the cast appears Harrison Ford, a big stage and screen favorite whose recent work in the big picture, "In Little Old New York" (with Marion Davies), and more recently working with Ethel Shannon in "Springtime," and "Mae McDermott."

The Orpheum

"THE ARIZONA EXPRESS," on view today, Friday and Saturday at the Orpheum, is a "thrilling melodrama." Pauline Stark and Harold Good will appear in the leading roles. "The Arizona Express," famed as a stage play, is far more exciting on the screen. Lincoln J. Carter, noted for his unique talent as a writer of drama, went himself one better than anything he had ever done. Carter now is working exclusively for the Fox scenario department.

Others in the cast of the picture are Anne Cornwall, Harold Goodwin, David Butler, Francis MacDonald, Frank Seal and William Humphrey. The production was directed by Thomas Buckingham.

The story tells of a young railway mail clerk whose only romance is in the letters which he handles on his run through the Arizona desert. How a band of crooks plots to rob a bank, using an innocent youth as a tool, and how the scheme is frustrated by girl and the young mail clerk, makes one of the most startling picture dramas ever screened, according to advance announcements from the west coast.

Picketing Is Not a Conspiracy to Restrain Interstate Commerce

In the case of the Herbert & Melsel Trunk Company against the United Leather Workers Union, in which it had been contended that "picketing" during a strike was a conspiracy to restrain of interstate commerce, the United States Supreme Court, citing the Colorado coal case, takes the view that "more intentional cutting down of manufacture or production is not a direct restraint of commerce. The diminution of interstate commerce by the illegal or tortious prevention of its manufacture is an indirect or remote obstruction to that commerce. It is only when the intent or the necessary effect upon such commerce in the article is to enable those who intentionally diminish its product to monopolize its supply or control its price or discriminate as between its would-be purchasers, that such unlawful diminution of its manufacture can be said directly to burden interstate commerce."

New Treatment For Varicose or Swollen Veins

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal. It is guaranteed.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that enlarged glands, wens and even goitre disappear when used steadily. Union Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Who Owns America?

Edward A. Weeks in "Wall Street"

There are those who believe that financial and economic America is controlled from "Wall Street" by a few dominating persons at vast wealth who reach out to every city, town, village or hamlet of America and manipulate the country's resources and control its wealth. To such persons everything that goes on financially is controlled by these financial autocrats who, from offices in "Wall Street" or near there, hold the economic destiny of the people in the remotest corner of the United States in the hollow of their hands.

When the elder Morgan died he owned but one share of stock in the Steel Corporation. Yet there are thousands of persons who still believe that J. P. Morgan absolutely controlled it.

We have recently learned how comparatively small an interest John D. Rockefeller has in the Standard Oil Company. Yet, to many persons, John Rockefeller personifies absolute dictatorship of that great company with all its ramifications—indeed, of the entire oil trade with all its ramifications.

Who owns America? Is it possible that any small group of men can dictate its economic or financial policy? Are our railroads, great corporations, public utilities, banks, insurance companies with all their ramifications controlled by a few men who through interlocking directorates reach down from "Wall Street" to the most remote parts of the country, and so dominate America?

There are about 115,000,000 persons in the United States—say 15,500,000 families. The net worth of our people is about $250,000,000,000; and our income is placed at about $45,000,000,000.

Over ten and a half million homes are owned in the United States. Of these, 4,525,119 are owned free of encumbrance.

There are 4,418,396 farms owned in our country, of which 1,515,495 are run by the owners; the balance, except 44,526, being managed by tenants. These farms have a value of $17,524,100,119, and are mortgaged for only $4,903,787,132.

One Group Control Impossible. No one seriously contends that either the home-owners or the farmers are or can be controlled by any trust, whether from "Wall Street" or any other place. Machinery to reach and control them does not exist.

More than $1,000,000 policies are in force in the life insurance companies of the United States, totaling $90,125,375.779. Excluding duplicates this represents between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 persons carrying life insurance, representing total assets of $3,325,728,774.

These 50,000,000 policyholders own about 15 per cent or $1,000,000,000 of the railroad bonds of the country, $3,000,000,000 of mortgages of which $1,000,000,000 are on farms—and various other securities.

These life insurance companies are neither owned nor controlled by any small group of persons. Over 75 per cent of these assets are those of mutual companies owned solely by their policyholders. Many of the remaining companies are more or less mutual in the sense of being obliged to pay to the policyholders all earnings over a fair rate of interest on the invested capital; and all the non-mutual companies are precluded from exorbitant profits by being compelled to compete with companies purely mutual.

Our building and loan associations have $2,575,751 members and assets of $2,544,224,703. Often it is these associations that hold the mortgages upon the homes, contrary to the idea of some that "Wall Street" and the powers that dictate through "Wall Street" hold these mortgages.

Savings Depositors Own the Bonds. In our savings banks there are 12,153,997 accounts for $7,121,344,000—exclusive of savings accounts in commercial banks. This number should be reduced to determine the number of depositors, because many have several accounts in the same bank or accounts in different banks; but allowing for the largest possible scale of duplication, there are certainly a great many millions of persons—probably from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000—having over $7,000,000,000 of deposits in the savings banks of our country. And it is these savings bank depositors who own the vast majority of bonds of railroads and institutions.

There are 32,558 banks in the United States, with total resources of nearly $22,000,000,000—$21,000,000,000 more than the banking resources of the rest of the world combined. These thousands of banks cannot be owned or controlled by any one person or by any small group of persons. It is recognized good business in organizing a bank to have the stock scattered widely among persons who can be of value to the bank.

In the interest of the bank itself wide distribution of the stock is considered essential to success. It would not be wise to assume that each bank has, on the average, something like one hundred stockholders. This would mean, allowing for duplication, something like 3,255,800 bank stockholders. Even where large corporations or even the major stock of a bank is owned by one person or a small group of persons, it is to their own interest to make the stock profitable; and it is profitable to the large holder, it is also profitable to the small holders also. Therefore, the small holders are not to be considered as a group that they profit by the active management of large persons, who, having more at stake, must give the banks the benefit of their greater ability and experience.

The railroads of the country are a gigantic business of corporations controlled by "Wall Street." These are those who seriously believe that men like the elder Morgan, J. P. Morgan, M. O. Frick, James J. Hill, and others practically owned the railroads of the United States.

As a matter of fact it is estimated that there are at least 45,000,000 persons—about one-half of the population of the country—directly or indirectly owners of the stocks and bonds of American railroads. The investment in railroads in this country is approximately $20,000,000,000.

Great Numbers Buy Indirectly. There are 1,553,125 stockholders; and while the number of bondholders is not recorded, it is estimated that these bondholders number about 1,000,000 individuals, corporations and institutions—many large holders being benevolent institutions. Cutting this total of 1,553,125 owners as far as we please to allow for duplications, it still means that not a few but a large number of people own our railroads. The Pennsylvania Railroad alone has 140,000 stockholders and 90,000 bondholders.

But this is not the whole story. These many times that number of individuals. Included among single owners are a few score life insurance companies representing, in turn, 50,000,000 individuals; a few hundred insurance companies; benevolent institutions, colleges and other corporations of various kinds; in turn, comprising many other millions of individuals, thousands of savings banks, trust companies, and other banks with millions of depositors and stockholders who own over $2,000,000,000. There are probably few people who are not included in the number who directly or indirectly own our railroads than in the number who do.

There is no recent estimate of the number of persons owning Liberty Bonds but with nearly 17,000,000 purchasers of them, including duplicates and allowing for those who have since sold them, there are certainly millions of persons who individually and indirectly own the government securities. And when to these are added the other billions in value, are owned by savings banks, insurance companies and other institutions—these owned, in turn, by other millions of individuals—it ought to be fairly clear, even to the unthinking, that no one can control the public debt of the United States.

Data is not available as to the total number of stockholders of corporations other than railroads, banks and building and loan associations. But the estimate of some years ago of 2,000,000 persons is probably now much exceeded. It is certainly safe to say that not a small group, but at least two or more million persons, own these institutions—large and small—from the Steel Corporation and the Standard Oil Company down to the smallest business.

One Group Control Impossible. Of course, many of these figures are repeatedly duplicated. The same person may own stock in several railroads, in national banks, have several bank accounts, carry many life insurance policies and own Liberty Bonds. But the very size of these figures shows the utter impossibility of control by any one person or group of persons or any network of persons and combines, either residing in New York or comprising throughout the various large cities of the country.

As a matter of fact, under present economic conditions, there are very few opportunities safely to make money that do not involve contributing to the prosperity of others. No one person or small group of persons can own the whole or any large part of a great railroad. Men like J. P. Morgan, K. H. Harriman and James H. Hill benefited large numbers of stockholders of railroads. The stockholders of the railroads with which these men were connected benefited by the rare ability of these men.

The owners of our great corporations have been anxious to spread the ownership of their companies widely among the public and their employees.

Our shrewdest persons realize that it is to their own interest to further the prosperity of the entire community. Bankers and other successful men realize that greater earnings and increasing business of banks and corporations come primarily from a prosperous community.

Over and over again, in financial affairs, corporations that have fallen into bad financial condition have been rescued, taken hold of, supported and stabilized, by other institutions as a matter of public and even selfish interest—of their enemy nations are now helping Austria. The day has passed when the wrecking of railroads or other institutions is considered a mere business. Of two groups—100 persons starting out to succeed in life by injuring other institutions, as compared with 100 persons starting with the determination to make all those around them prosper—which is the most certain to prosper and most largely? American business has no doubt of the right answer to that.

Fortunately, financial America is more of a real republic than political America. We allow financial leaders to control our institutions, but at all times have a veto power over them. No small group of persons or combination of persons can ever own America.

The Highgrader

By
WM. MACLEOD RAINE

Copyright by G. W. Dillingham Co.

Moya combed her long rippling hair while Lady Parquhar laid down the law to her young woman from the satisfaction of her command. The girl listened in silence, a flush burning through each of her dusky cheeks. There was nothing to be said that would avail.

"It is all very well to be independent within limits, my dear, but young women of our class are subject to the penalties that go with our privileges. When I was a girl I rebelled but had to obey. So must you." Lady Parquhar interrupted herself to admit the girl's rebellion. "What wonderful hair you have—so long and thick and wavy. It must take a great deal of care."

"Yes," Moya said absently. She did not regret the rebuke Lady Jim had come to give her while she was undressing. No doubt she deserved it. She had been unmanly, and all for love of this light-hearted, carefree girl who did not care the turn of a hand for her. All day her thoughts had been in chaotic ferment. At times she lashed herself with the whip of her own scorn because she turned for a self-confessed thief, for a man who lived outside the law and was not ashamed of it. Again it was the knowledge of her unwelcome love that flayed her, or of the injustice to her betrothed in so passionate a feeling for another man. With all her strong young will she fought against this devouring flame that possessed her—and she knew that she fought in vain.

In the shipwreck of her self-respect she clung to one thing. She would be on her way back to that well-ordered world where she would be entirely in the groove of convention. Her engagement to Captain Kilmeny would be announced. Surely among the many distractions of London she would forget this debauched tramp who had haunted her.

"You should have come to me—or to India for that matter. She is his cousin and is in a different position from you. Don't you see that, my dear?" Lady Parquhar asked gently. And again Moya said "Yes" wearily. "James and I understand you—how impulsive you are and how generous. But Mr. Kilmeny—and Mr. Verinder—what do you suppose they think?"

"I don't care what Mr. Verinder thinks," Moya began to coil her hair loosely for the night. "But that's just it—a girl must care. She can't afford to allow anyone an opportunity to think unpleasant things about her. She has to guard her reputation very jealously."

"And I suppose I've been playing tricks and strikes with mine," Moya said, pushing home a hairpin.

"I don't say that, dear. What I say is that Mr. Kilmeny may misinterpret your interest in him."

"He may think I'm in love with him. Is that it?" flushed the girl.

"He might. Give a man's vanity the least chance and—"

A reckless impulse to hurt herself—the same which leads a man to grind an acrid tooth in deadly rage—swayed Moya like a reed.

"Then he would think the truth," she interrupted. "What's the use of denying it? I . . . I'm in love with him."

"Moya," Lady Parquhar's protest came in a hoarse gasp.

The young woman turned her slim body in the chair with supple grace so as to face her chaperon. Beneath the dark eyes spots of color burned through the tan.

"It's true. I've cared . . . ever since we met him."

"And he—has he ever made love to you?"

"Never. He's thought only of love. That's what makes it more shameful."

Lady Parquhar took a moment to absorb the unwelcome news. "I never dreamed it was so bad as this. Of course I knew he interested you a good deal, but—"

Moya could not keep scorn of herself out of her voice. "But you think I was so lost to decency as to throw myself at his head. You see I am."

"Nonsense," came in her chaperon with sharp, concise sense. "You're not the first girl that has fancied a man who won't do. It's imagination—a good deal of it. You can do for him. That's all you can do."

"I can't do that. I've tried," confessed Moya miserably.

"Then try again—and again—and still again. Remember that you are engaged to a man worth a dozen of him. Call your pride to help you."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James M. Allen, suffering for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated poisons, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. It has therefore instructed druggists everywhere in dispensing Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will refund your money without comment. Union Drug Company can supply you—Advertisement.

he is. He never says anything, or avoids the subject of his condition in any way. She added, after an instant: "Ned knows that I don't . . . love him—that is, in one way. He says he is ready to wait till that comes."

"Ned Kilmeny is a man out of a million. Wait. Give yourself and him a chance. In a few days we'll be starting home."

"That's what I've been telling myself. Everything here reminds me of him. It will be different then, I try to think. But—down in my heart I don't think it will."

"And I know it will," the matron told her promptly. "Time, my dear, builds all our woes. You have great recuperative powers. In a year you will wonder how he ever cast such a spell over you."

Moya heard the last belated revelation pass down the corridor to his room before she fell asleep. When she awoke it was to see a long shaft of early sunshine across the bed.

She rose, took her bath, and dressed for walking. Her desire drew the steps of the young woman away from the busy street toward the suburb.

She walked, as always, with the elastic resilience of unfettered youth. But the weight that had been at her heart for two days—since she had learned from Jack Kilmeny's lips that he was a highgrader—was still there, too, and she was shaken away by the wonder of the glorious newborn day.

Returning to the hotel, she met a man on the porch whose face alighted instantly with a friendly memory. He came to her at once, a big, lanky, good-natured man with the weatherbeaten look of the West.

"Aren't you the Miss Dwight I've heard Jack Kilmeny mention?"

"Yes, this is Mr. Colter, isn't it?"

He nodded, watching her with hard, narrowed eyes. "Scandalous! You can't tell me what it is? Jack's sister—two of them, anyhow—came back to the barn during the night with bits of broken harness still attached to them. Looks like there had been a runaway and the wagon had come to grief. The keeper of the livery stable says: 'Well, look it up, the wagon around Jack's place and left it with him. He was soon driving out of town soon after. He has not been seen since.'"

Her heart flew to alarm. "You mean . . . you think he has been hurt?"

"Don't know. He's not in town. That's a cinch. He's raked Goldbanks with a toothcomb. Where is he?"

"Couldn't be at his mine?"

"I sent a boy out there. He's not at the Jack Pot."

"What is it that you think? Tell me," she cried softly.

"You're his friend, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"There's some talk around town that he was held up by Bleyer. I came up here to see him or Verinder. Foul play of some kind, that's my guess."

"But—you surely don't think that Mr. Bleyer or Mr. Verinder would hurt him?"

The look of dogged resolution on the man's granite face did not soften. "They'll have to show me—and by G—d if they did—"

Her mind flew with consternation to the attack upon Kilmeny that had been made by Bleyer. But Verinder had told her nobody had been hurt. Could they have taken the highgrader prisoner? Were they holding him for some purpose?

"Mr. Verinder gets up about this time usually," she said.

BARN SAVED AFTER BOLT SETS FIRE AT NORTH SCOTTDALE

Mill Town Department Rush to Aid of Members of C. A. Colborn Family.

PECTATOR RUN DOWN

His Secretary Takes Charge of Plans For Semi-Centennial Celebration on July 4 and Begins Work of Shaping Program; Main Events Named.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTDALE, June 18.—Yesterday about 12:30 o'clock lightning struck the barn of C. A. Colborn at North Scittdale. An alarm was sent in for the fire department, which responded promptly. Before the department arrived, however, water was carried by the members of the family and this, with the short time that it took the firemen to reach the scene, made it possible to save the structure. Burning hay was pulled out with the fire hooks. The barn stands on the top of the hill above the McClure stop, on the West Point Road.

Jean Fox, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fox of Everett avenue, when the fire alarm sounded, went out with some larger people to see the fire. Near the Roth plant mill, a touring car with some foreigners in it struck her and hurled her to the street. The car did not stop. A man coming along in another machine picked the child up and took her to her home. The child was examined by a physician and found to have suffered no serious injuries. An effort will be made to arrest the person driving the car. Police are working on the case.

Celebration Secretary Enlarged.
J. J. Bell, paid secretary for the 50th anniversary celebration to be held in Scittdale on July Fourth, arrived from Pittsburg on Tuesday evening and met with the committee at a very enthusiastic meeting in the borough building.

Headquarters have been established in the room at Pittsburg and Chestnut streets. Mr. Bell will be there each day to meet and talk over plans with any person interested or to give any possible information. Mr. Bell is shaping up a program and by next Tuesday it is expected to have one completed. He has promised to have something being every minute from 7 o'clock in the morning until 12 o'clock at night.

The W. C. T. U. held an executive committee meeting last evening and decided to put a float in the July Fourth parade. It also decided to furnish ice water for the town that day. Mrs. C. D. Reid and Mrs. C. A. Colborn composed the committee in charge.

Rain Prevents Game.
The ball game to have been played yesterday at Athletic Field between the Martins and Scittdale was postponed on account of the heavy rain.

A. V. Pritchard's Funeral.
Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the South Broadway home of Carl B. Pritchard for his father, Andrew V. Pritchard, who died on Sunday morning at the Old Fall River Home at Grove City, New York.

S. Wight, pastor of the Christian Church, of which Mr. Pritchard was a member, had charge of the services and interment followed in the Scittdale Cemetery. Mr. Pritchard was 75 years old and was a resident of Scittdale about 10 years ago.

For Rent—One large room with bath, suitable for two gentlemen. Price $2.50. Inquire Ruthford's Book Store—Advertisement—121-212.

Personal Mention.
Mr. and Mrs. Allen Staley of Perryopolis are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Goss.

Mrs. William Weir is visiting with John and Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Colborn, son, Wallace, and daughter, Marjorie, of Bloomington, Ill., are visiting at the home of Mrs. L. S. Shorbondy of Delaware avenue.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

New He Can Walk
"The Happy" Says Peterson

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson. "One that would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted rich man who would give all he has to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment."

"Read this letter by Mrs. Albert Southcott. It seems like a miracle but it is true every word of it."

"Is it any wonder I am happy?"

Dear Sirs:
"I was a sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just one dollar's worth I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's Ointment."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Lyndonville, N. Y. Price, 35c—Advertisement.

MEN WHO FIGURE IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Alvaro Obregón, President of Mexico, and James Earl Ray, President of the United States.

President Alvaro Obregón, of Mexico, had a narrow escape from death when his car broke loose from a train at Puebla and dashed down a hill. The engineer of a passenger train ascending the incline reversed his engine and backed his train at such speed that the Presidential car struck with little shock. President James Earl Ray, of Yale University, has been taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for special organic treatment. The kidnapping and murder of Giacomo Matteotti, wealthy Socialist member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, is reported in Rome to have seriously shaken Fascist Premier Benito Mussolini's grip on the Government. C. Dawson Stone, of Virginia, private secretary to President Coolidge, denies he intends to resign because of friction with William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican National Committee, but says he will conduct the campaign in an advisory capacity.

WOMEN FILLING LARGER PLACE IN INDUSTRY

Time When Facts Not Fancies
Must Regulate Position
As Wage-Earners.

MORE MARRIED WORKERS

"Every man, woman, and child in the United States today depends more or less on the work of some of the more than eight and one-half million wage-earning women of this country," so reads the opening sentence of a bulletin entitled "Radio Talks on Women in Industry," recently issued by the women's bureau of the United States Department of Labor. That practically every man, woman, and child in the United States also will find readable and informative the human interest problems about the hours, wages, and working conditions of wage-earning women set forth so simply and graphically in the bulletin is apparent from even a brief glance at the short, popular articles and the clever pen and ink illustrations which comprise the contents.

Women as producers of economic goods is not a new thing, according to the bulletin which explains that "the reason there are so many women in factories and mills is because most of them are doing work which used to be done by the men in the homes before the present day of intricate machines and industrial organization. In this age, manufacturing processes have become so complicated that one person is seldom able to complete the whole article. It takes about 150 different operations to make a shoe which used to be made entirely by one person's hands. With such subdivisions of labor it is natural that there have been tremendous changes in the number of women employed in gainful occupations. Of 572 occupations listed in the census there are only 26 in which no women are engaged."

It is pointed out that "the time, has come when facts, not fancies, must regulate the position of wage-earning women. It is necessary to uproot old prejudices about them—antiquated theories that are useless and cumbersome in the modern industrial world as hoop skirts. Such ideas as the pin-money theory which asserts that women work only to be able to buy feminine fripperies, the belief that girls who live at home can get along on very low wages since their families will help support them, and the opinion that all women are transients in the industrial world and therefore not in need of vocational training are not only wrong but vicious, since these ideas cause injustice to be done to women workers." Because of the millions of wage-earning women and because of their vital relation to the health and happiness of the family, the community, and the nation, the bulletin emphasizes the importance of maintaining high standards of employment for women, in order to keep up the standards of living in this country.

The astounding increase in the number of married women as wage earners (in 1920 the census showed two million married women working for gain outside the home) makes high standards in industry especially important for the sake of the race, according to the bulletin which goes on to say, "most persons think of wage-earning women as youngsters from 15 to 25 years old who are working for a few brief years in industry until they are fortunate enough to meet some young man who marries them and enables them to live comfortably thereafter. This happens in some cases but by no means to all women wage earners. There are thousands who never marry but keep on working in industry all their lives—sometimes for 40 years in one type of work. There are many thousands of women who do get married, stop work for a while and then go back to the factory in order to help support the family or in some cases to take the place of husbands whom sickness or death has removed from the breadwinning ranks. Many mothers go out to work during the daytime leaving children at home to look out for each other; other mothers work at night and perform the household duties during the day. At the expense of rest and sleep, these women exacting the double role of housewife and wage earners, perform such necessary household duties as cooking, cleaning, washing, ironing, sewing, and caring for children."

"Industry is tending to become more and more monotonous, and nowhere does this show itself more clearly than where women are employed. The chief results of this monotony are fatigue for the body and dullness for the mind. Doing one thing over and over again uses only one set of muscles but uses them so continuously that they have no time for rest, and quickly become over-tired. One remedy for this state of affairs is reasonably short work hours and a living wage—hours which will not bring over-fatigue to the body and which will allow enough free time for personal pursuits and mental refreshment, and a wage which will make possible an adequate standard of living."

The discrepancy between wages and the cost of living is often particularly great for women, who in the main are employed in the low paid occupations, and must stretch their every penny to make the proverbial two ends meet. Men do not make the same efforts as women do to eke out a low wage and keep up a certain standard of living. No matter how small his pay the average man after his day's work does not come home with a wash and trim his clothes, he does not often cook his supper over the gas plate to save the price of a meal in a restaurant, nor does he make over his clothes and trim his own hats. Yet this is the usual thing for women to do, and they do it not for fun but because they cannot afford to do otherwise. Their margin is too close."

"Many investigations have shown that wage-earning women as a rule are not only supporting themselves entirely but are also contributing to the support of others. In spite of the many doubts as to their earnings women have not been able to secure for themselves adequate recognition in industry. It is therefore particularly important that wages for women should in some way be standardized and stabilized."
